GILBERT COMING

STATE SUPERINTENDENT TO ADDRESS TEACHERS.

Annual County Institute In Session Here This Week—Prominent Educators On Program.

The annual meeting of the Lincoln County Teachers' Institute began its sessions at the court house on time Monday morning, but after the opening session, adjournment was taken to the graded school building on Danville avenue, where the use of a piano could be secured for the musical features of the program. A full attendance of the teachers of the entire county was shown by the roll call.

Several of the most prominent educators of Kentucky have been secured for addresses to the teachers by Supt. Garland Singleton, who is being highly complimented for his enterprise in securing such attractions during the meeting of the institute. President T. J. Coates, of the Eastern State Normal School at Richmond greatly pleased the teachers on Monday. Prof. McHenry Rhoads, state supervisor of High Schools is expected here during the institute, and on Thursday State Superintendent of Public Instruction V. O. Gilbert will attend the institute and address the teachers and trustees, for Thursday has been designated as trustees and patron's day and will be made quite an occasion with the State Superintendent on hand.

Supt. W. C. Wilson, of the Stanford City Schools, is making every session an interesting one to the teachers. He is a splendid institute conductor and giving much satisfaction.

The Institute was called to order Monday morning by Supt. Garland Singleton, Miss Annie McKinney was elected Secretary, and Prof. W. R. Todd appointed Official Reporter of the proceedings, and W. C. Wilson, Instructor.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Joseph Hopper, of Stanford. Dr. Carpenter as County Health Officer was called on to discuss contagious and infectious diseases. In his able way, he told of the dreadful effect of some of the common diseases: "T. B.," typhoid, hookworm, trachoma and pellagra; told of their spread and then how each and everyone could be prevented and wiped out, by being careful and sanitary and to always make war on the house fly, as the fly is a common carrier of disease. Dr. Carpenter was followed by Mr. J. C. McClary, who gave an interesting and beneficial talk on sanitary conditions in the home and school room.

After a motion to hold the institute in the graded school building carried, the forenoon session was adjourned till 1:30 o'clock. A Committee on Programs was appointed and topics of discussions were assigned for the afternoon, Supt. Wilson directing the discussions. Prof. S. S. Robinson, Principal of the Hustonville graded school, gave a very helpful talk on individuality of the teacher, showing that a strong individuality had a great deal to do with the success of the teacher.

Prof. W. T. White, of Ottenheim, next took up the subject of the Organization of a School, deeming it necessary for the teacher to become acquainted as far as possible with patrons and pupils, before school begins and to become familiar with existing conditions in the district and in the school building.

After a forcible talk by Supt. Wilson, on Class Room Order, the subject was opened for general discussion, to which many responded, and different suggestions were offered by teachers of all grades.

At three o'clock Supt. Coates, of the State Normal School, arrived, and entered into the discussion of school room order, telling the teachers that discipline is the result of habit, and habit the result of action; that this is an age where the teachers should prevent causes which lead to disturbances and they should analyze every condition arising in the school room. He outlined his method of improving schools as, first to have a teacher who is competent; second, a well formed course of study; third, adequate physical equipment for the school; fourth, length of school term, and fifth, a full attendance.

Prof. Joseph H. Kastle, famous Lexington chemist and head of the State Experiment Station, died Sunday after a short illness.

SPEAKS HERE THURSDAY

Superintendent of Public Instruction V. O. Gilbert.

Kidd's Store Burglarized

Thieves Got About $15 from Post-office—West End News.

Hustonville, Sept. 27. Kidd's Store and the post-office were robbed the night of the 15th by burglars breaking in through a rear window. The thieves secured $5 in buffalo nickels, $5 in stamps from the postoffice and about $5 from the store. Blood hounds were sent to the spot from Hustonville and a trail was secured and carried a short distance, where it was lost. Uncle Sam will land the culprits when he gets on their trail.

Everybody is rejoicing over the disappearance of the dust since the rain of Friday.

Eugene Chinn of Junction City, was knocked in the head by Dave Burnam Saturday night and badly bruised. He entered Chinn's home while the latter was asleep and did quick work.

Miss Gabbie Bradshaw of Turnersville, was here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Eads and son, Leslie Eads and son, Samuel Eads and family visited relatives at Stanford Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Traylor of Stanford motored here Sunday morning and spent the day with the latter parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Stephenson Mrs. R. L. Berry and Miss Anna Floyd were in attendance last week at the 84th annual convention of the Christian church at Winchester.

Alger Weddle was unintentionally omitted as being one of those from here in attendance at the State Fair. Mrs. Nannie Harper of North Carolina, arrived here Saturday for a visit with relatives and friends.

L. F. Steele sold El Burgin, of Moreland, a new 5-passenger Ford. J. B. Honaker returned Friday from Wayne county with a car load of extra nice feeding cattle he purchased recently in that section. They were the best we have seen for quite a while. They averaged 800 pounds and sold at from 1-2 to 7-12c.

Eugene Dunn sold a half car of extra nice hay to parties at Robins, Tenn., at $14 a ton. Mrs. Bettie Williams filled the remaining part of the car with straw for the same parties.

Mrs. Helen Huffman left last Friday for Washington, D. C., to visit her niece, Mrs. Melie Gibbs and family.

DEATH OF BRIGHT LITTLE BOY.

Johnny Gourley, aged two years, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gourley, near Highland, and was buried Thursday after funeral services by "Bro." Harman Hatfield. The bright little fellow had an intestinal trouble. F. J. Conn, of Garrard, who was an uncle by marriage, says he was one of the manliest, finest children he ever saw.

THIS IS THE LAST WEEK.

In which you can subscribe for the Interior Journal at $1 a year. The price goes up to one and all, to $1.50 next Monday. White paper upon which the I. J. is printed which used to cost $40 a ton, now costs $120, and we use a ton a month. Figure it out yourself. Many have so far neglected to send in renewals. Pay up for as many years in advance as you wish this week, at the $1 rate. Some have paid for as far as six years in advance. It will be $1.50 a year next week. Do it now. 76-2

Helm Puts It On Owens

Local Congressman Vigorously Upholds Wilson in Joint Debate

Congressman Harvey Helm "put it all over" former Congressman W. C. Owens, of Louisville, in a joint debate between them at Springfield, in Washington county Monday, according to the correspondent of the Courier-Journal in today's paper. The tall congressman from Lincoln is proving a powerful advocate of President Woodrow Wilson and his policies on the stump in the present campaign and there is a big demand for him outside of his own district. The C-J. said of the Springfield speaking: Springfield, Sept. 25.—Both the Democratic and Republican campaigns opened in this county today, the occasion being marked by a joint debate between Congressman Harvey Helm, of the Eighth district, representing the Democrats, and W. C. Owens, of Louisville, Republican nominee for congress. Congressman Helm was introduced by John A. Polin and spoke an hour, after which Mr. Owens was introduced by W. F. Neikirk. Mr. Owens spoke for over an hour, at the end of which, according to agreement, Mr. Helm spoke 15 minutes in reply. There was a large crowd in town, Democrats being in the majority, and the courthouse was filled to capacity during the speaking. The speech of Congressman Helm was an able one. Mr. Owens was unable to make a successful attack upon a single act of the Administration. Enthusiasm reached its maximum when Congressman Helm began his reply. Turning to Mr. Owens he asked him whether, if elected, he would introduce a resolution in congress looking to a declaration of war on Mexico. Evading the question, Mr. Owens said: "You were in congress; why didn't you do it?" The Republicans had great confidence in their man as a debater and went into the courthouse with a great deal of enthusiasm which was soon dispelled when the tall Congressman from the Eighth began his reply. Mr. Owens was bested throughout and at the close of the debate all the enthusiasm was on the Democratic side.

HELM SPEAKS IN SOUTH END.

Congressman Harvey Helm spoke to about 50 voters at Waynesburg Saturday afternoon and to fully 150 people at Kings Mountain that night. He was given splendid attention and his talks were well received. He introduced himself at Waynesburg, but at Kings Mountain Dr. C. M. Thompson did it and did it nicely. From his visits to various sections of the county Congressman Helm is satisfied that democracy is in good fighting shape for the November election and that in the district and State everything is alright.

DIGGS—MILTON

County Judge James P. Bailey on Monday used his most approved marriage ceremony in uniting the hands and hearts of Reuben Milton, aged 62 and Mrs. Rosa Ann Diggs, aged 61. Each had been married before, the groom once and the bride twice. Both were from the Highland section of the county.

PUBLIC SALE

of PERSONALTY & REAL ESTATE

Having decided to quit farming, I will on the 19th Day of October, 1916

at 9:30 a. m., sell to the highest and best bidder my splendid blue grass farm consisting of 206 acres, situated on the Hustonville and Stanford turnpike about two miles from the very best schools and town in Kentucky. This farm is as good producing land as in Central Kentucky. Farm is all suitable for cultivating and is well fenced and improved. This place must be seen to be appreciated. I will be glad to show anyone the farm before sale, and you may inquire of J. H. Baughman & Co., Stanford, Ky., as to the kind of grain and produce I grow. I have owned this farm some thirty years and it is in a much better state of cultivation now than when I purchased. This is a splendid opportunity for some one to get a money-making farm at a reasonable price. It has one ten-room two-story frame dwelling house, also one six-room tenant house. It has one of the best stock barns in Kentucky. All necessary outbuildings in good repair. It has a cistern, ponds and never-failing springs on place; new silo. Also will sell on same day if not sold before:

- 2 registered brood mares.
 - 3 brood mares subject to register.
 - 3 buggy horses, safe to drive.
 - 5 two-year-old mules.
 - 8 mule colts.
 - 1 pair good work mules.
 - 1 work mule.
 - 8 two-year-old cattle.
 - 10 calves and yearlings.
 - 5 dairy cows.
 - About 900 bales of hay.
 - About 25 acres of corn in shock, and farming tools of all kinds, including six-horse power Hagan gas engine.
 - One No. 1 Dix Blizzard cutter in splendid shape.
 - Some household and kitchen furniture and other things too numerous to mention.
 - Possession given on January 1, 1917, seeding privileges given to purchaser.
- WM. BECK.
- J. B. Dinwiddie, Auct.
- Terms made known on day of sale. Dinner for all on grounds.

Big Crowd Hears Thorne

Congressman Kincheloe Was Detained—Mule Buyers On Hand.

A good crowd attended court at Lancaster Monday and mules were there by the hundreds. Buyers and sellers were far apart, however, and many of the hybrids did not change hands. Dick Gentry, of Boyle, picked up three nice mare mules, three to four years old, at $200 to $225. They were choice ones. War and work mules brought all the way from $110 to $157.50. Mule colts were slow and there were few sales compared with the number on market. Those sold brought from $60 to $110. James Hutchins, formerly of Hubble, bought one of Ben Hudson at the latter figure. The ruling prices were $75 to $90. There were probably 200 cattle at the pens, but on account of dry weather and the scarcity of grass trade was not brisk. A bunch of good, 800-pound steers brought 7c; some heifers, about the same weight, sold at 6c; butcher stuff was slow at 4c to 5c and canners were hard to sell at any price.

As Congressman D. H. Kincheloe, of the Second district, was unable to come as scheduled, ex-Lieut. Gov. W. P. Thorne addressed a large gathering of democrats at the courthouse in the afternoon after a handsome introduction by Editor Joe E. Robinson, of the Central Record. Gov. Thorne made one of his characteristic old time, democratic speeches, which should have good effect with the sturdy democracy of Garrard. The courthouse was turned over to the republicans at 3 o'clock and Hon. King Swope, of Danville, was presented to the audience—which by the way, had materially lessened since Gov. Thorne's effort—by Henry Bastin, who did the job nicely. Mr. Swope made a speech along the same lines of the one delivered here a few weeks ago and was given a very respectful hearing. Democrats say that Garrard county is in good shape and that her majority will be on the right side of the big book in November.

MRS. JOHN S. HUGHES DEAD.

Her many friends here, among whom she lived the greater portion of her life, learned with deep regret of the death of Mrs. John S. Hughes of West Point, this state. Her demise followed a protracted illness in the Good Samaritan Hospital at Lexington Friday. Deceased was Miss Emma Johnson, of this county, and she is survived by her husband, so well known here, and a sister, Mrs. F. J. Campbell, of Lexington. She was 70 years old and was a most excellent, christian woman. She moved with her husband from Stanford some 15 years ago and most of the time since had been spent at West Point. Her burial occurred in Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville, Sunday, after services by H. L. Calhoun.

OLD FURNITURE SALE

A large number of "old furniture" enthusiasts attended the sale held by Mrs. J. S. Owsley here last week. It is said that fairly satisfactory prices were realized for most of the offerings. Among the out-of-town ladies here for the sale were Mesdames Logan Wood, A. E. Hundley and Guy Hundley, of Danville; Mesdames Ellis, Stone, Whitley, Mary Clay and Miss Grimes, of Paris; Mesdames Clay, Gorham, Plummer, Muller and Pierce and Mr. Bogard of Lexington; Mesdames J. B. Stout, J. A. Robinson, J. H. Letcher, Fayette Dunlap, McDowell, J. H. Bughman, Miss Nan McDowell, Miss Cook, Mrs. Nelson, of Danville; Mesdames Woods Ogilvie, Frank Marksburg, Theo. Curry, and G. B. Robinson, of Lancaster.

BASTIN BROS. BUY FRANCHISE.

News from Lancaster is to the effect that the Bastin Bros., of that city bought the electric light franchise offered by the city of Lancaster Saturday. They are said to have agreed to furnish light to the city of Lancaster at $12.50 for each 100-candle power light. A new plant will be installed and a 24-hour service furnished the patrons, something badly needed in every town. The Messrs. Bastin are among the liveliest young business men in this part of Kentucky, and with them at the head of the electric light plant, it is bound to be a big success.

BOUGHT HIGHLAND FARM.

Daley Hutchison, who moved from Texas to Covington some months ago came over last week and bought the John Baugh place, near his old home at Highland. The place contains 70 acres and Mr. Hutchison paid $2,000 for it, a team of horses and most of the crops.

WELBURN RETURNS

CONFERENCE SENDS PASTOR BACK TO STANFORD

Dr. Greer Also Reappointed Presiding Elder—Appointments in Danville District.

Everyone here will be glad to know that the Methodist Conference at Nicholasville early this week re-assigned Rev. W. D. Welburn as pastor of the Stanford church. The conference also did exceedingly well in the re-appointment of Rev. C. H. Greer, as Presiding Elder of the Danville district. The 1917 conference will be held at Lexington. The conference voted favorably upon a motion looking to the unification of the Northern and Southern Methodist conferences. Assignments in this, the Danville district were as follows for the ensuing year:

C. H. Greer, presiding elder. Burgin, R. M. Lee. Burnside, W. F. Vaughn. Corbin, W. P. Fryman. Danville, H. G. Turner. East Bernstadt, A. P. Bortorf. East Pulaski, W. P. Hopkins. Gravel Switch, S. A. Nolan Buys Out Carter

Former Eubanks Young Man Gets Business in Danville.

Edward Nolan, formerly of Eubank, early this week purchased the grocery, dry goods and general merchandise store of John J. Carter, near the depot in Danville, and has assumed charge. Mr. Nolan has been making his home in Danville for some time, and has many friends there who predict he will enjoy a very lucrative business. The location is a splendid one and Mr. Carter has done well there. Station A of the Danville postoffice has been located in the Carter store, and Mr. Nolan will also take over the postmaster-ship of that department of the Danville office. Mr. Carter probably will return to his farm in the Hall's Gap section, which will be good news to his many friends back in Lincoln county, which he left a few years ago when he bought the store in Danville.

MULE BUYERS BUSY

M. B. Eubanks, who, with his partner R. L. Hubble, is feeding about 40 head of mules on his Boyle county farm, was over here Monday and purchased from Green Gooch, of the Waynesburg section, half a dozen head of mare mules for which he paid $965. They ran in years from four to six. Mr. Eubanks bought five head at Somerset last week, which cost him around the same figure. Mule buyers were very busy at Somerset the past few weeks. A total of five car loads are said to have been shipped out of the Pulaski capital during the fair there, many of them being bought in the lower counties and brought into Somerset for delivery and shipment.

$100 REWARD FOR BURGLAR

Someone, evidently hungry, broke into the store of the Turnersville Supply Company, four miles west of Stanford on the Hustonville pike, on last Friday night. A lot of meat and some groceries were stolen. Entrance was secured through a window. The value of the articles stolen was not great, but the proprietors are very anxious to apprehend the thief and in an advertisement in today's paper, offer $100 reward for his arrest and conviction.
